What is an IDPS?

The term IDPS stands for 'investor directed portfolio service'.

An IDPS is a generic term for an investment and reporting service operated by a master trust or wrap account operator. People who invest through an IDPS are indirect investors.

What happens when I invest through a master trust, IDPS or wrap account?

When you invest via a master trust, IDPS or wrap account you are investing indirectly in this fund and as such you do not become a unitholder in the fund. It is the master trust, IDPS or wrap account operator (IDPS operator) that is the unitholder and the term 'unitholder' as used in this PDS refers to those entities. You will not receive reports or other documentation from Colonial First State in respect of this fund. Instead, these will be provided to you by your IDPS operator, who is the unitholder. Issues relating to your investment in this fund should be directed through your IDPS operator.

About the fund

When you invest in the Baillie Gifford Global Stewardship Fund – Class A, your money is combined with other investors' money in a managed investment scheme.

What is a managed fund?

A managed fund pools the money of many individual investors. This money is then professionally managed according to the investment objective of the fund. By investing in a managed fund and pooling your money with other investors, you can take advantage of investment opportunities that you may not be able to access as an individual investor.

When you invest in a managed fund, you are allocated a number of 'units' based on the entry unit price at the time you invest. Your units represent the value of your investment, which will change over time as the market value of the assets in the fund rises or falls.

Who are the parties involved?

Colonial First State Investments Limited is the responsible entity for the fund identified in this PDS.

We have appointed Baillie Gifford Overseas Limited (Baillie Gifford) as the investment manager for the fund.

We have an investment management agreement in place with Baillie Gifford as part of our arrangement to outsource investment management of the fund. The agreement sets out how money should be invested. It may specify an appropriate benchmark, acceptable investments and investment ranges for investment management.

Baillie Gifford is subject to initial and ongoing reviews to ensure it can meet its obligations under the investment management agreement. Baillie Gifford is required to certify and report to us on certain obligations under the investment management agreement. We also monitor the performance of the investment manager.

What are the benefits of the Baillie Gifford Global Stewardship Fund – Class A?

The fund is offered to you by Colonial First State through an alliance with Baillie Gifford, providing you the opportunity to invest with an independent practitioner of long-term, active, growth investing, with a dedication to clients' interest above all else.

How Baillie Gifford manages the fund

About Baillie Gifford

Baillie Gifford is an independent investment management partnership established over 100 years ago that manages over $355bn globally (as at March 2019). The firm is based in Edinburgh and wholly owned by the current partners, who all work within the firm. As stewards of Baillie Gifford's long-term vision, the partners are free to manage the firm without the short-term demands that external shareholders can bring. The growth of the firm has always been organic, with no mergers and acquisitions. Baillie Gifford are independent practitioners of long-term, active, growth investing – with a dedication to clients' interest above all else.

Investment Philosophy and Process

The Global Stewardship investment philosophy is based on exploiting three main behavioural inefficiencies ever present in equity markets: short-termism, herding and the mispricing of growth. In addition, the investment team believes that good governance and stewardship are vital to the long-term success and growth of a company, as well as in the interests of the world at large. The team incorporate these issues into their stock research through a series of stewardship-focused questions, and then encourage best practice on governance and sustainability matters in investee companies through engagement with company management.

Baillie Gifford looks for stocks that satisfy five key criteria. The GEARS of Global Stewardship:

- 1 Growth – How quickly can the company grow and for how long?
- 2 Edge – What is the company's source of sustainable advantage?
- 3 Alignment – Do management act like owners?
- 4 Returns – What will long-run profitability look like?
- 5 Success – How do we double our money?

The decision-making process is designed to allow controversial, idiosyncratic ideas into the portfolio, so group consensus is not required. The Baillie Gifford process bypasses some of the behavioural issues involved with committee-style decision making and results in a different, exciting portfolio.

Screening

In addition to the rigorous vetting process described above, the Global Stewardship portfolio is also subject to two types of ethical screen:

Sector-based screen – prevents investments in any companies that derive more than 10% of their annual revenues from:

- The production or sale of tobacco, armaments or alcohol
- Gambling or adult entertainment related activities
- Fossil fuel extraction.

Performance-based screen – assesses companies against the principles of the United Nations Global Compact for business. These principles cover the following areas:

- Human rights
- Labour rights
- Environmental safeguards
- Combating bribery and corruption.

The principles are a 'minimum bar' standard for responsible business.

Baillie Gifford use third-party data providers to assist with the determination of revenue by product category and minimum standards for responsible business. Baillie Gifford's Head of Governance & Sustainability, a Global Stewardship team member, makes the final decision with respect to which companies it excludes.

Risks of investing

What is risk?

Understanding investment risk is the key to successfully developing your investment strategy. Before you consider your investment strategy, it is important to understand that:

- all investments are subject to risk
- there may be loss of principal, capital or earnings
- different strategies carry different levels of risk depending on the assets that make up the strategy, and
- assets with the highest long-term returns may also carry the highest level of short-term risk.

When considering your investment, it is important to understand that:

- the value of investment funds will go up and down returns are not guaranteed
- you may lose money
- previous returns don't predict future performance laws affecting investment may change
- your level of risk appetite will vary depending on your age, investment timeframe, where other parts of your money are invested and how comfortable you are with the possibility of losing some of your investment in some years.

Different investments perform differently over time. Investments that have provided higher returns over the longer term have also tended to produce a wider range of returns. These investments are generally described as more risky, as there is a higher chance of losing money, but they can also give you a better chance of achieving your long-term objectives. Investments that have provided more stable returns are considered less risky, but they may not provide sufficient long-term returns for you to achieve your long-term goals. Selecting the investments that best match your investment needs and timeframe is crucial in managing this risk.

Your adviser can help you understand investment risk and design an investment strategy that is right for you.

Market risk

Investment returns are influenced by the performance of the market as a whole. This means that your investments can be affected by things like changes in interest rates, investor sentiment and global events, depending on which markets or asset classes you invest in and the timeframe you are considering.

Securities and investment-specific risk

Within each asset class, individual securities like mortgages, shares, fixed interest securities or hybrid securities can be affected by risks that are specific to that investment or that security. For example, the value of a company's shares can be influenced by changes in company management, its business environment or profitability. These risks can also impact on the company's ability to repay its debt.

Management risk

The fund in the PDS has an investment manager to manage your investments on your behalf. There is a risk that the investment manager will not perform to expectation.

Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk refers to the difficulty in selling an asset for cash quickly without an adverse impact on the price received. Assets such as shares in large listed companies are generally considered liquid, while 'real' assets such as direct property and infrastructure are generally considered illiquid. Under abnormal or difficult market conditions, some normally liquid assets may become illiquid, restricting our ability to sell them and to make withdrawal payments for investors without a potentially significant delay.

Counterparty risk

This is the risk that a party to a transaction such as a swap, foreign currency forward or stock lending fails to meet its obligations such as delivering a borrowed security or settling obligations under a financial contract.

Legal, regulatory and foreign investment risk

This is the risk that any change in taxation, corporate or other relevant laws, regulations or rules may adversely affect your investment.

In particular, for funds investing in assets outside Australia, your investment may also be adversely impacted by changes in broader economic, social or political factors, regulatory change and legal risks applicable to where the investment is made or regulated, including differing insolvency regimes.

Environmental, social and governance (ESG) and climate risk

The value of individual securities may be influenced by environmental, social and governance factors. These factors include the potential impact that climate change and global warming may have on the valuation of a security. For example, a company's revenue may be reduced due to weather events and this may then reduce the value of the company's shares.

Distribution risk

In some circumstances, the frequency or rate of distribution payments may vary or you may not receive a distribution. This is more likely to occur when a fund employs extensive currency hedging or uses derivatives.

Currency risk

Investments in global markets or securities which are denominated in foreign currencies give rise to foreign currency exposure. This means that the Australian dollar value of these investments may vary depending on changes in the exchange rate. Baillie Gifford use a currency management strategy that aims to minimise unintentional currency exposure.

Derivatives risk

Derivatives are contracts between two parties that usually derive their value from the price of a physical asset or market index. They can be used to manage certain risks in investment portfolios or as part of an investment strategy. However, they can also increase other risks in a portfolio or expose a portfolio to additional risks. Risks include: the possibility that the derivative position is difficult or costly to reverse; that there is an adverse movement in the asset or index underlying the derivative; or that the parties do not perform their obligations under the contract.

In general, investment managers may use derivatives to:

- protect against changes in the market value of existing investments achieve a desired investment position without buying or selling the underlying asset
- manage actual or anticipated interest rate and credit risk
- alter the risk profile of the portfolio or the various investment positions
- manage currency risk.

As financial instruments, derivatives are valued regularly, and movements in the value of the underlying asset or index should be reflected in the value of the derivative. The fund may use derivatives, such as futures, options, forward currency contracts and swaps, and are outlined in the strategy of fund.

Credit risk

Credit risk refers to the risk that a party to a credit transaction fails to meet its obligations, such as defaulting under a mortgage, a mortgage-backed security, a hybrid security, a fixed interest security or a derivative contract. This creates an exposure to underlying borrowers and the financial condition of issuers of these securities.

Emerging markets risk

Due to the nature of the investments in emerging markets, there is an increased risk that the political and/or legal framework may change and adversely impact your investments. This could include the ability to sell assets. Funds that invest in global markets may have exposure to emerging markets. For additional information on emerging markets risk, refer to page 16.

The fund in this PDS is subject to some or all of these risks which can also vary from time to time. You should consult your financial adviser before making a decision to invest. Your financial adviser is required to be qualified in understanding the risk and return associated with the wide range of investment funds available to you and can help you make decisions regarding these funds.

Are there any other risks you should be aware of?

When investing, there is the possibility that your investment goals will not be met. This can happen because of the risks discussed previously. It can also happen if your chosen investment strategy is not aligned to your objectives and timeframes.

How should you determine your investment timeframe?

Your financial adviser can help you determine your investment timeframe.

If you are mainly concerned about protecting your capital over a relatively short period of time, then a secure, cash-based investment may be the most suitable. However, if you want the value of your investment to increase over a longer period, then growth assets like shares and property are likely to feature prominently in your investment portfolio.

Although we have suggested minimum investment timeframes together with the Standard Risk Measure associated with each particular investment, you should regularly review your investment decision with your financial adviser because your investment needs or market conditions may change over time. Our minimum suggested timeframes and the Standard Risk Measure should not be considered personal advice.

Risk measure categories

Below is a table that outlines our labelling of risk measures and categories.

Allocation
The asset allocation refers to the proportion of a fund that is invested in each asset class such as shares, property securities, fixed interest and cash. The asset allocation will vary at different points in time. The benchmark allocation reflects the proportion of each asset class that a manager aims to hold within the fund. The range reflects the minimum and maximum amount that may be held in each asset class at any point in time.

Minimum suggested timeframe
Investment professionals will have differing views about the minimum investment period you should hold various investments, and your own personal circumstances will also affect your decision. Under the investment objective we have suggested a minimum investment timeframe; however, you should regularly review your investment decision with your financial adviser because your investment needs or market conditions may change over time. The minimum suggested investment timeframe should not be considered personal advice.

Standard Risk Measure
We have adopted the Standard Risk Measure (SRM), which is based on industry guidance to allow investors to compare investment funds that are expected to deliver a similar number of negative annual returns over any 20-year period (as outlined in the table below). The SRM for each fund is also a measure of the risk objective of the expected variability of the return of the fund.

The SRM is not a complete assessment of all forms of investment risk; for instance, it does not detail what the size of a negative return could be or the potential for a positive return to be less than an investor may require to meet their objectives.

Further, it does not take into account the impact of administration fees and tax on the likelihood of a negative return.

Investors should still ensure they are comfortable with the risks and potential losses associated with their chosen investment funds. The SRM should not be considered personal advice. Investors should regularly review their investment decision with their financial adviser.

More detail on risks which may affect your investment is included in the 'Risk' section on pages 4 and 5.

Fees and other costs

Did you know?

Small differences in both investment performance and fees and costs can have a substantial impact on your long term returns.

For example, total annual fees and costs of 2% of your account balance rather than 1% could reduce your final return by up to 20% over a 30-year period (for example, reduce it from $100,000 to $80,000).

You should consider whether features such as superior investment performance or the provision of better member services justify higher fees and costs.

You may be able to negotiate to pay lower contribution fees and management costs where applicable.¹ Ask the fund or your financial adviser.

To find out more

If you would like to find out more, or see the impact of the fees based on your own circumstances, the Australian Securities and Investments Commission (ASIC) website (www.moneysmart.gov.au) has a managed funds fee calculator to help you check out different fee options.

This document shows fees and other costs that you may be charged. These fees and other costs may be deducted from your money, from the returns on your investment or from the assets of the managed investment scheme as a whole.

Taxes are set out in another part of this document.

You should read all the information about fees and other costs because it is important to understand their impact on your investment.

Type of fee or cost	Amount	How and when paid
FEES WHEN YOUR MONEY MOVES IN AND OUT OF THE FUND
Establishment Fee The fees to open your investment	Nil	N/A
Contribution Fee² The fee on each amount contributed to your investment	Nil	N/A
Withdrawal Fee² The fee on each amount you take out of your investment	Nil	N/A
Exit Fee² The fee to close your investment	Nil	N/A
MANAGEMENT COSTS
The fees and costs for managing your investment	1.03% pa (estimated)	The management cost is expressed as a percentage of the total average net assets of the fund. The management costs are reflected in the daily unit price and payable monthly or as incurred by the fund.
SERVICE FEES
Switching Fee² The fee for changing funds	Nil	N/A

All fees disclosed include the net effect of GST.

1 Please note: Although we are required by law to include this wording, the fees are not subject to negotiation.

2 Even though contribution fees, switching fees, withdrawal fees and exit fees are not charged, buy/sell spreads apply (refer to page 9 for further details).

Additional explanation of fees and costs

Management costs

The terms 'management costs' and 'management fees' mean different things.

Management costs include management fees, estimated performance-related fees (if applicable), investment expenses and custody fees. Management costs are deducted from the performance of the fund (ie they are not charged directly to your account). These costs may be incurred directly by the fund or within an underlying investment vehicle. They do not include contribution fees, transaction costs or additional service fees. The management costs for each fund are either an estimate or based on current financial information. They are expressed as a percentage of each fund's net assets and are outlined on page 8.

Management fees are the fees payable under the Constitution for the management of the fund. Management fees are calculated from gross assets of the fund. For details of the maximum management fees allowed under the Constitution, refer to 'Increases and alterations to the fees' on page 10.

Example of annual fees and costs

This table gives an example of how fees and costs in the fund can affect your investment over a one-year period.

You should use these tables to compare the fund with other managed investment products.

EXAMPLE

Baillie Gifford Global Stewardship Fund – Class A		Balance of $50,000 with a contribution of $5,000 during the year
Contribution fees	0%	For every additional $5,000 you put in, you will be charged $0.
PLUS
Management costs	1.03% pa	And for every $50,000 you have in the Baillie Gifford Global Stewardship Fund – Class A you will be charged $515 each year.
EQUALS
Cost of Baillie Gifford Global Stewardship Fund – Class A		If you had an investment of $50,000 at the beginning of the year and you put in an additional $5,000 during that year, you would be charged fees of: up to $566.50 What it costs you will depend on the fund you choose and the fees you negotiate.

These figures are inclusive of the net effect of GST.

Additional fees may apply:

Establishment fee: $0

And, if you leave the managed investment scheme early, you may also be charged exit fees of 0% of your total account balance.

Please note that this is just an example. In practice, the actual investment balance of an investor will vary daily and the actual fees and expenses we charge are based on the applicable fees and costs and value of the fund, which also fluctuates daily.

Buy/sell spreads also apply.

Transaction costs

Transaction costs are the costs of buying and selling assets directly or indirectly held by a fund, and may include brokerage (and other related Broker costs), government taxes/duties/levies, bank charges, custodian charges on transactions and the buy/sell spread of any underlying funds.

If the amount payable to acquire an investment exceeds the price that it would be disposed of at that time, the difference is also a transaction cost.

Transaction costs are an additional cost to you, but no part of a transaction cost (including the buy/sell spread) is paid to us or an investment manager. Transaction costs are usually paid for from the assets directly or indirectly held by a fund at the time of the transaction.

Buy/sell spreads

For most funds, there is a difference between the unit price used to issue and redeem units and the value of the fund's assets. This difference is due to what is called the buy/sell spread. When you (or any person you have authorised) invest or withdraw all or part of your investment in these funds, we use the buy/sell spread to pay for the transaction costs incurred as a result of the transaction. We use the buy/sell spread to allocate these transaction costs to the investor transacting rather than other investors in the fund.

A fund's buy/sell spread is set to reflect the estimated transaction costs the fund will incur as a result of investor transactions.

The buy/sell spread for the Baillie Gifford Global Stewardship Fund – Class A is currently 0.10%.

Please note: The buy/sell spreads are not paid to us or the investment manager. They are paid to the fund and can be altered at any time and may be altered without prior notice to you.

Example: If you make a $50,000 investment in or withdrawal from the Baillie Gifford Global Stewardship Fund – Class A you will incur a buy/sell spread of $50.

Other transaction costs

Not all transaction costs are funded from the buy/sell spread. One reason for this is that a fund may buy or sell assets even though there have been no investor transactions. Additional transaction costs may be incurred either in the fund or in underlying funds and these will reduce the returns of the fund.

The 'estimated total transaction costs' for the fund, 'estimated recovery amount' from the buy/sell spread and the 'estimated net transactional costs' which reduce the returns on the fund are set out in the following table:

Fund name	Estimated total transaction costs (pa)	= Estimated recovery amount (pa)	+ Estimated net transactional costs (pa)
Baillie Gifford Global Stewardship Fund – Class A ¹	0.25%	0.06%	0.19%

These figures are inclusive of the net effect of GST.

Please note: Past costs are not a reliable indicator of future costs. Future costs may differ.

1. The figures are estimates as this fund commenced on 11 June 2019.

Increases or alterations to the fees

We may vary the management fee used to calculate the management costs set out on page 8 at any time at our absolute discretion, without your consent, within the limits prescribed in the fund's Constitution. If the variation is an increase in a fee or charge, we will give you at least 30 days prior written notice.

The Constitution of the fund provides for a maximum management fee of 3.075% pa.

Please note: The maximum is provided for information and is not the current fee charged. The current fees are shown in the table on page 8.

Other operating expenses and abnormal costs

The Constitution allows for the ongoing operating costs, charges, expenses and properly incurred outgoings (such as registry, trust accounting, investment, audit, regulatory, production of the offer documents and taxation advice) and other administration costs, charges and expenses to be paid directly from the fund. Alternatively, the responsible entity is entitled to recover these costs from the fund.

The Constitution does not place any limit on these costs that can be paid from the fund.

Abnormal costs (such as costs of meetings, recovery and realisation of assets, changes to the Constitution and defending or pursuing legal proceedings) are paid out of the fund. These costs are incurred fairly infrequently.

Where short-term settlement borrowing or borrowing for underlying funds occurs, borrowing costs such as interest on borrowings, legal fees and other related costs are payable by the fund.

For direct investors

What is paid to your adviser?

The adviser recommending this product may receive from us certain non-monetary benefits allowed under law (soft dollar). Under our obligations pursuant to the Corporations Act 2001 and the Financial Services Council Code of Practice, we keep a record of soft dollar payments which we are entitled to make to dealer groups or advisers. Please contact us if you would like to view this register.

Dealer groups and other licensees who have an arrangement with us may receive remuneration from us to the extent that it is permitted under law. This remuneration will be paid out of the fees we derive from you that are indicated in the table on page 8 in a given year. If these amounts are paid, they are paid by us from our revenue and are not an extra amount paid from the fund, nor are they a further amount you pay.

Adviser service fee

You can also agree with your financial adviser to have an adviser service fee, for advice received relating to your investment in the fund, paid directly from your investment. The adviser service fee will be paid to your current adviser or any subsequent adviser on your investment.

Your adviser may agree with their dealer group or licensee that a portion of the adviser service fee will be paid to the dealer group or licensee for services they provide to your adviser in relation to financial product advice provided by your adviser. Where this applies, this is not an additional amount paid by you but is included in the adviser service fee.

You can review all your fee arrangements with your adviser at any time.

This adviser service fee can either be charged as an ongoing fee or a one-off fee, or a combination of both.

An ongoing fee can be charged as:

- a percentage of your account value, and/or
- a set dollar amount.

You can also choose to increase any ongoing set dollar amount by a percentage based on the Consumer Price Index (up to a maximum of 3% each year).¹

Please nominate this on your application form.

This ongoing fee will be deducted from one of your funds on a monthly basis within the first five business days of the following month.

A one-off adviser service fee can also be charged as a set dollar amount.

You can choose to have this one-off fee deducted from one or all of your funds. Where you choose to deduct the fee from all of your funds, it will be based on the investment weighting on the day of the deduction.

This one-off fee will be deducted within the first five business days of the following month.

Colonial First State may at its discretion reduce or refuse to deduct an adviser service fee or refuse to record or deal with your adviser at any time. Please contact your adviser directly regarding the negotiation of the adviser service fee.

The adviser service fee agreed with your financial adviser must be expressly stated as being in relation to financial product advice provided by your adviser, in the relevant section of the application form. You must consent to the amount of the adviser service fee deducted from your account and paid to your financial adviser through your financial adviser's dealer group.

Details of the adviser service fees deducted from your investment should be included in your statements and will be disclosed to you by your adviser in the Financial Services Guide and Statement of Advice which your adviser must give you.

Commissions and other payments

The IDPS operator may receive remuneration from us to the extent that it is permitted under law. This remuneration will be paid out of the fees we derive from you that are indicated in the table on page 8 in a given year. If these amounts are paid, they are paid by us from our revenue and are not an extra amount paid from the fund, nor are they a further amount you pay.

Your adviser may also receive remuneration from the IDPS operator in a variety of ways for the provision of services. Details of this remuneration will be in the offer documents for the master trust or wrap account and the Financial Services Guide and Statement of Advice which your financial adviser must give you.

Differential fees

We may issue units to certain investors such as sophisticated, professional, wholesale investors or Bank employees with reduced management costs. Such arrangements would be subject to individual negotiation, compliance with legal requirements and any applicable ASIC class orders.

¹ Indexation will be applied in August each year and may occur within the first year, depending on the date of the request. We will notify you in writing prior to the increase each year.

Receiving income

Any income that you receive from your investment, will be in the form of distributions. Your distribution may include income such as interest, dividends and realised capital gains.

Distributions are based on the number of units you hold in a particular fund, in proportion to the number of units held by all unitholders, at the distribution date. You must hold units on the day prior to any distributions being paid in order to be eligible for a distribution. Distributions are not pro-rated for investors who were not unitholders for the whole period. The type of income you receive depends on the asset classes in which each fund invests.

Fund name	Distribution frequency
Baillie Gifford Global Stewardship Fund – Class A	Half-yearly (December and June)

Distributions are calculated on 30 June and generally the last Sunday of the month they fall due, and are normally paid within 14 days to you or your IDPS operator if you are investing through an IDPS. The dates on which distributions are calculated are available online or by calling Investor Services on 13 13 36.

In some circumstances, we may vary the distribution timing and frequency without notice to investors (for example, to take into account days that fall on a public holiday).

What are your distribution choices?

You can choose to have your distributions:

- automatically reinvested, with no contribution fee or transaction costs payable. The additional units are purchased using the net asset value per unit applicable immediately after the distribution, or
- directly credited to your Australian financial institution account.

Please nominate your choice on your application form. If you do not make a choice, then your distributions will be automatically reinvested. If the bank account details you have supplied for your distributions are invalid, then after making reasonable attempts to contact you, we will reinvest the distributions back into your existing investment funds within 28 days.

If you are an indirect investor, complete the documents which the IDPS operator requires.

In extraordinary circumstances, where a fund is suspended, restricted, or unavailable, we may not permit some or all of the income distributions to be reinvested.

What happens if you invest just before a distribution?

Please note that the unit price will fall by the amount of any distribution (per unit) immediately after the distribution is paid.

If you or your IDPS operator, invest just prior to a distribution, then that distribution effectively represents a return of your investment.

Depending on your circumstances, this may have certain taxation implications and we recommend that you speak with a financial adviser or tax adviser to determine the impact of the distribution on your investment. Distribution dates should be checked prior to transacting on your account.

How are your transactions processed?

Applications

To ensure that your application is processed efficiently, it is important that you complete all sections of the application form and provide us with all documentation we request (refer to the application form checklist in the application forms section).

If you are an indirect investor, complete the documents which the IDPS operator requires to invest in the fund.

In the event that certain information is not provided, the following will apply:

- if no investment fund or an invalid fund is selected for deducting the adviser service fee, we will deduct from the first fund invested in, as outlined in the application forms section
- unless otherwise specified, additional deposits and applicable fees will be invested in line with your most recent transaction and/or a regular investment plan.

In certain situations, after receiving your application form (and related information), and application monies, we may not be able to proceed, for whatever reason, with your request, and issue the product immediately, until the required information is received.

In these situations we may:

- attempt to contact you and/or your adviser (if applicable)
- hold your application monies in a trust account until we receive the required information. Any interest on these monies may be retained by us.

Funds are held for a maximum period of 30 days commencing on the day we receive the funds. After this period your funds will be returned to the source of payment.

When we receive your completed application, we deduct from your investment amount any applicable contribution fee. The balance will then be divided by the next determined entry unit price for that date.

For completed applications received in our offices prior to 3pm (Sydney time) on a NSW business day, the unit price used will be the one effective that day; completed applications received in our offices after 3pm (Sydney time) on a NSW business day will receive the following day's entry unit price. However, for funds received electronically, either by direct debit, EFT, B_{PAY} or transfers from another institution, the unit price used will be the one effective the date the funds are received in our bank account.

In extraordinary circumstances, we may suspend or restrict applications and we may also reject applications at our discretion.

Withdrawals

This is a complex area and has tax implications. If you need further explanation regarding any of the terms used in this section, please discuss with your financial adviser.

Withdrawals cannot be processed until application monies are cleared and all necessary documentation is provided.

We reserve the right to delay a transaction where there may be a concern over its legitimacy or for the security of our investors.

If you are an indirect investor, complete the documents which the IDPS operator requires to make a withdrawal from the fund.

In the event that certain information is not provided, the following will apply:

- if no payment method is selected, a cheque will be provided
- payments can only be made to Australian financial institutions. Overseas accounts will not be accepted. If a request is made to transfer funds to an overseas account, a cheque will be provided.

When we receive your completed withdrawal request, together with any documentation that we may require to establish your identity, the proceeds are calculated at the next determined exit unit price.

Withdrawals are normally processed within seven working days of receiving a request from the IDPS operator. Longer periods may apply from time to time. Where a fund is suspended, restricted or unavailable, we may not process withdrawal requests. Further, where a fund is not liquid, we cannot allow investors to withdraw from the fund unless we make an offer to withdraw. There is no obligation for us to make such an offer and if we do, investors may only be able to withdraw part of their investment. Any decisions whether to process withdrawals or partial withdrawals will be made in the best interests of investors as a whole, and if any payment is to be made, then the exit price used to calculate this payment will be the one determined at the time the payment is made.

You should note that unless an investment fund is suspended, restricted or unavailable, you may withdraw from an investment fund in accordance with our normal processes.

Transaction cut-off times

If your completed transaction request is received in our office before 3pm (Sydney time) on a NSW business day, it will be processed that day using the next determined unit price.

If your completed transaction request is received after the cut-off time shown above, your transaction will be processed on the following NSW business day.

Transaction processing and unit prices

We calculate unit prices each NSW business day. If your valid investment or withdrawal request is received by the relevant cut-off time, you will receive the next determined unit price.

The next determined unit price for any NSW business day is calculated at the close of trading of all markets on that day. Therefore, the next determined unit price is not known until the following business day. It is important to consider this when making your transaction request.

Please note: If you ask for a unit price or investment valuation, we can provide an historical unit price or investment valuation only.

How are unit prices calculated?

When you invest, you are allocated a number of units in the fund. Each of these units represents an equal part of the market value of the portfolio of investments that the fund holds. As a result, each unit has a dollar value, or 'unit price'.

The unit price is calculated by taking the total market value of all of a fund's assets on a particular day, adjusting for any liabilities and then dividing the net fund value by the total number of units held by all investors on that day. Although your unit balance in the fund will stay constant (unless there is a transaction on your account), the unit price will change according to changes in the market value of the investment portfolio or the total number of units issued for the fund. We determine the market value of the fund based on the information we have most recently available.

We may exercise certain discretions that could affect the unit price of units on application or withdrawal in the fund. The types of discretions that we may exercise, in what circumstances, our policies on how we exercise the discretions and the reasons why we consider our policies are reasonable, are set out in our Unit Pricing Permitted Discretions Policy. If we exercise a discretion in a way that departs from the policies set out in our Unit Pricing Permitted Discretions Policy, we are required to keep a record of this in a Register of Exceptions. You can obtain a copy of our Unit Pricing Permitted Discretions Policy or Register of Exceptions, or both, free of charge, by calling us on 13 13 36.

What is the difference between entry and exit unit prices?

There may be a difference between the entry and exit unit price for the fund, quoted on any business day. This difference relates to the fund's buy/sell spread.

So existing investors do not continually bear the transaction costs resulting from new investments or withdrawals that you make, all investors pay a set, average amount (a buy/sell spread) when they transact. This is calculated according to the particular types of investments the fund holds. Not all new investments or withdrawals cause transaction costs to be incurred by the fund, for example, where an investment does not incur any significant costs, or when a new investment coincides with a withdrawal by someone else. However, to be consistent, we generally apply buy/sell spreads to all new investments and withdrawals from the fund. Refer to page 9 for the buy/sell spreads that apply to the fund.

Unit pricing adjustment policy

There are a number of factors used to calculate unit prices. The key factors include asset valuations, liabilities, debtors, the number of units on issue and, where relevant, transaction costs. When the factors used to calculate the unit price are incorrect, an adjustment to the unit price may be required. We generally use a variance of 0.30% in the unit price before correcting the unit price.

If a unit pricing error is greater than or equal to this variance, we will:

- compensate your account balance if you have transacted on the incorrect unit price or make other adjustments as we may consider appropriate, or
- where your account is closed, we will send you a payment if the amount of the adjustment is more than $20.

These tolerance levels are consistent with regulatory practice guidelines and industry standards. In some cases we may compensate where the unit pricing error is less than the tolerance levels.

Investment information

Emerging markets risk

Investing in emerging markets may involve a higher risk than investing in more developed markets. Emerging market securities may present market, credit, currency, liquidity, legal, political and other risks different from, and potentially greater than, the risks of investing in developed market countries.

For example, companies in emerging markets may not be subject to:

- accounting, auditing and financial reporting standards, practices and disclosure requirements comparable to those applicable to companies in major markets
- the same level of government supervision and regulation of stock exchanges as countries with more advanced securities markets.

Accordingly, certain emerging markets may not afford the same level of investor protection as would apply in more developed jurisdictions. There are also risks that, while existing in all countries, may be higher in emerging markets due to the legal, political, business and social frameworks being less developed than those in more established market economies.

Examples of higher risks include:

- political or social instability (including recession or war)
- institutional manipulation of currency or capital flows
- deflation, inflation, or loss in value of currency, and
- greater sensitivity to interest rates and commodity prices.

As a result, investment returns from emerging market securities are usually more volatile than those from developed markets.

This means that there may be large movements in the unit prices of investment options that invest in emerging market securities over short or long periods of time.

You should consider whether a fund that invests in emerging market securities is suitable for your portfolio.

Are labour standards or environmental, social or ethical considerations taken into account?

As the responsible entity/trustee, we appoint investment managers to manage the underlying investments of each investment option. We do not directly manage the investments but have in place a robust governance process for assessing the capabilities of the investment managers.

As such, we do not specifically take into account labour standards or environmental, social or ethical considerations when making investment decisions. However, where those factors negatively impact investment performance or potential, we may discuss these matters with the relevant investment manager and/or review our decision to hold the specific investment.

We may also consider these factors to the extent that they impact on an investment manager's organisational stability, reputation and performance. Each investment manager may have its own policy on the extent to which labour standards or environmental, social or ethical considerations are taken into account when making investment decisions. We may consider these policies when selecting investment managers.

What investments can the fund hold?

The Constitution of the fund allows us a great deal of discretion about what investments are held in the fund. The investments intended to be held are outlined in the strategy of the fund. If we decide to change, we will advise you as soon as practicable. The Bank, our parent company, is listed on the Australian Securities

Exchange (ASX). We are permitted to hold shares in the Bank under ASIC relief on certain conditions which include that any such holding is not voted and the total holdings for all entities in the Bank Group do not exceed 5% of the issued capital of the Bank.

What is the meaning of allocation?

Each fund invests in direct assets according to the investment fund's objectives. Allocation refers to how the fund is ultimately invested in other funds, direct assets, sectors and/or pools. The day-to-day allocations may vary slightly from those shown.

Within their allocations to listed securities, some of the funds may purchase unlisted securities on the basis that the securities will list in the future.

Further details on the securities the fund can hold are outlined in the strategy of the fund on page 7.

Changes to investment funds

Colonial First State may, without prior notice to investors, change the investment objective and/or strategy; add, close or terminate an investment fund; or change an investment manager.

Any change would be considered in light of the potential negative or positive impact on investors.

We will notify existing investors in affected funds of any material change as soon as practicable.

Updated information that is not materially adverse can be obtained by calling Investor Services on 13 13 36 or by visiting our website, www.colonialfirststate.com.au. A paper copy of the updated information will be provided free of charge on request.

How is the fund structured?

When you invest in the fund, your money is combined with other investors' money in a managed investment scheme. The fund is a separate managed investment scheme. The investment fund in this PDS invests into direct assets which are managed according to the fund's objectives. We are the responsible entity for the underlying fund.

Taxation and regulatory

How is your investment taxed?

General taxation information has been provided for you in this PDS. However, because the Australian taxation system is complex and different investors have different circumstances, you should consider seeking professional taxation advice before investing in the fund.

You may be required to pay tax in relation to your investment in a fund (generally income or capital gains tax); however, you may be able to claim some tax credits or receive the advantage of some tax concessions.

Some tax information has been provided for you below. However, although every care is taken, it is never possible to rule out the risk that on a subsequent review, taxation liabilities of the fund could be increased or the benefit of concessions reduced.

Because investors can move into and out of a fund at different points in time, there is a risk that taxation liabilities in respect of gains that have benefited past investors may have to be met by subsequent investors.

This tax information is current as at 14 May 2019.

The levels and basis of tax may change in the future. We will send you all the information you need each year in order for you to complete your tax return.

Will you be liable to pay tax on income distributions you receive from the fund?

You may, depending on your total level of taxable income and your income tax rate. This is the case whether the money is actually paid to you or reinvested. Any tax you pay depends on what makes up the attributed income. Attributed income could comprise:

- income (such as dividends and interest)
- net capital gains (from the sale of the fund's investments), and
- tax credits (such as franking credits attached to dividend income and credits for tax paid on foreign income).

Will you be liable for tax when you withdraw money from the fund?

You may, depending on your total level of taxable income and your income tax rate. Australian residents are generally subject to capital gains tax on gains when they withdraw from a fund or transfer units to another person or entity. Depending on the type of taxpayer you are defined as and how long you have held your units, you may be entitled to a capital gains tax concession which can reduce the liability by up to 50% if you are an individual or trust, or 33.33% if the investment is held by a complying superannuation entity.

Do you have to quote a Tax File Number (TFN) or an Australian Business Number (ABN)?

(Australian residents only)

Under law (Taxation Administration Act 1953) we can collect your TFN. You are not required by law to quote your TFN. However, without your TFN or appropriate exemption information, we are required to withhold tax at the highest marginal tax rate (plus Medicare and other applicable levies) on income attributed to you. We will only use your TFN for lawful purposes (which are subject to legislative changes).

Non-residents

Non-residents may be subject to withholding tax on attributed income. The exact amount cannot be determined in advance because it varies depending upon the type of income. Generally, for the fund offered in this document, non-residents will not be subject to Australian tax on capital gains arising at redemption. However, non-residents seeking to invest should obtain tax advice on their specific circumstances.

Withholding

We may be required to withhold an amount from any payment to you to meet our obligations under foreign or domestic law, including those imposed pursuant to sections 1471 to 1474 of the United States Internal Revenue Code 1986 (FATCA).

Attribution Managed Investment Trusts (AMITs)

Our eligible Managed Investment Trusts (MITs) have elected into a taxation regime called Attribution Managed Investment Trust (AMIT) regime. A MIT that has elected into this regime is also referred to as an AMIT. All our eligible funds opted into the AMIT regime from 1 July 2017.

Under the AMIT regime, we will attribute income and tax offsets to you on a fair and reasonable basis. You will generally be assessed on this income and may be entitled to claim the tax offsets attributed to you.

The AMIT regime also provides you with the ability to adjust the cost base of your interest in the AMIT upwards or downwards where amounts attributed to you differ to the amounts that you have received as a cash distribution. This attribution information will be provided to you in an annual Tax Return Information

Statement. This statement will detail member components of assessable income, capital gains, tax credits and other relevant information you should include in your tax return.

For more information, refer to 'Modifications to the Constitutions' available at our website at www3.colonialfirststate.com.au/personal/products/products-and-update/managed-investment-trust.html

What is the Constitution?

The fund is governed by a Constitution. Together with the Corporations Act and some other laws, the Constitution sets out the conditions under which the fund operates and the rights, responsibilities, powers, discretions and duties of the responsible entity and investors. The Constitution deals with a number of issues including:

- your rights as a holder of units
- fund termination, and
- our broad powers to invest, borrow, receive fees and other payments and generally manage the fund.

The Constitution states that your liability is limited to the amount you paid for your units, but the courts are yet to determine the effectiveness of provisions of this kind.

You can inspect a copy of the Constitution at our head office or we will provide you with a copy free of charge.

The Constitution gives us a number of rights, including a number of discretions relating to unit pricing and fund termination. You can obtain a copy of our Unit Pricing Permitted Discretions Policy, free of charge, by calling us on 13 13 36.

We may alter the Constitution if we, as the responsible entity, reasonably consider the amendments will not adversely affect investors' rights. Otherwise, we must obtain investors' approval at a meeting of investors.

We may retire or be required to retire as responsible entity (if investors vote for our removal).

Your rights to requisition, attend and vote at meetings are mainly contained in the Corporations Act.

Custody

A professional custodian generally holds the assets of the fund.

The custodian is appointed by Colonial First State and is responsible only to us.

The custodian may be changed from time to time and we may change the custodian where we are satisfied that the proposed new custodian meets all regulatory requirements.

You will not be notified of a change in custodian. If the custodian is another company in the Commonwealth Bank Group then we would have to:

- satisfy ASIC that we are able to separate each fund's assets from our own, and
- satisfy ourselves that holding each fund's assets in this way would be cost-effective for investors.

If you would like details of our custodian, please contact either the IDPS operator or us in the case of a direct investor.

Anti-Money Laundering and Counter-Terrorism Financing laws and Sanction laws

We are required to comply with these laws, including the need to establish your identity (and, if relevant, the identity of other persons associated with your account).

Instructions for completing the identification process are included with the application forms in this PDS.

Additionally, from time to time, we may require additional information to assist with this process. We may be required to report information about you to the relevant authorities. We may not be able to tell you when this occurs. We may not be able to transact with you or other persons. This may include delaying, blocking, freezing or refusing to process a transaction or ceasing to provide you with a product or service. Refer to the Terms and Conditions on page 22. This may impact on your investment and could result in a loss of income and principal invested.

Is there a cooling-off period?

A 14-day 'cooling-off period' will apply to your initial investment in certain circumstances. If, during the 14-day cooling-off period, you decide that the investment does not meet your needs, then simply advise us, or if you are an indirect investor, your IDPS operator in writing.

The 14 days start when your transaction confirmation is received by you or if you are an indirect investor, your IDPS operator, or five days after your units are issued, whichever is earlier.

We will refund your investment, reduced or increased for market movements (and, where relevant, once we have established your identity). We will also deduct any tax or duty incurred and an amount for reasonable transaction and administration costs we incur in relation to your investment in the fund, including determining your application. As a result, the amount returned to you may be less than your original investment.

What to do if you have a complaint?

If you are investing through an IDPS then complaints should be directed to the IDPS operator who will facilitate dispute resolution on your behalf.

We accept that sometimes we can get things wrong, and when this happens we're determined to make them right again.

What we collect

Depending on whether you are an individual or an organisation, the information we collect will vary. For instance, if you are an individual, the type of information we may collect and verify includes your full name, date of birth and residential address. If you are commonly known by two or more different names, you must give us full details of your other name or names.

Gathering and combining data to get insights

Improvements in technology enable organisations, like us, to collect and use information to get a more integrated view of customers and provide better products and services.

The Group may combine customer information it has with information available from a wide variety of external sources (for example, census or Australian Bureau of Statistics data). Group members are able to analyse the data in order to gain useful insights which can be used for any of the purposes mentioned above.

In addition, Group members may provide data insights or related reports to others; for example, to help them understand their customers better. These are based on aggregated information and do not contain any information that identifies you.

Protecting your personal information

We comply with the Australian Privacy Principles as incorporated into the Privacy Act 1988 (Cth).

The Privacy Act protects your sensitive information, such as health information. When we need to obtain this type of information, we will ask for your consent, except where otherwise permitted by law.

Who do we exchange your personal information with?

We exchange your personal information with other members of the Group, so that the Group may adopt an integrated approach to its customers. This applies also where your products and services are held through a Commonwealth Financial Planner.

Group members may use this information for any of the purposes mentioned under 'How do we use your personal information?' above.

We may exchange your information with third parties where this is permitted by law or for any of the purposes mentioned under 'How do we use your personal information?' above.

In all circumstances where our contractors and outsourced service providers become aware of customer information, confidentiality arrangements apply.

If you request us not to share your information with one of our third party suppliers, this may lead to us not being able to provide you with a product or service.

We may be required to disclose customer information by law, eg under Court Orders or Statutory Notices pursuant to taxation or social security laws or under laws relating to sanctions, money laundering or terrorism financing.

Sending information overseas

From time to time, we may send your personal information overseas, including to overseas Group members and to service providers or other third parties who operate or hold data outside Australia. Where we do this, we make sure that appropriate data handling and security arrangements are in place. Please note that Australian law may not apply to some of these entities.

We may also send information overseas to complete a particular transaction or where this is required by laws and regulations of Australia or another country.

For more information about which countries your information may be sent to, see the Commonwealth Bank Group privacy policy, available at commbank.com.au

Where you hold an account with one or more individuals, we will allow each individual access to their own personal information and to the joint information of the account, such as account balances and transaction details, but not to personal information of the other individual(s).

Making a privacy complaint

We accept that sometimes we can get things wrong. If you have a concern about your privacy, you have a right to make a complaint, and we'll do everything we can to put matters right. For further information on how to make a complaint and how we deal with your complaint, please refer to page 18.

Can you appoint an agent?

As an investor you are entitled to appoint an agent to act on your behalf. This person could be your financial adviser, solicitor, or someone else that you trust to act on your behalf. We will only accept your appointment of agent if, among other things, we have successfully established the identity of this agent. To do this you will need to complete an appointment of agent form.

If you have more than one agent or signatory and you are a non-individual investor (eg company, trust or other entity type), you can appoint a verifying officer to identify your agents or signatories. To appoint a verifying officer, you will need to complete the verifying officer form. Copies of these forms can be obtained from our website or by calling 13 13 36.

Please note that by appointing an agent to act on your behalf, you are giving that person full authority over your account.

What are our reporting requirements?

If any fund is a disclosing entity under the Corporations Act, the fund is subject to regular reporting and continuous disclosure obligations. Copies of documents we lodge with ASIC to fulfil these obligations may be obtained from, or inspected at, an ASIC office.

You also have a right to request a copy of certain documents from us when they become available, and we must send you a copy (free of charge) as soon as practicable and in any event within five days. Your request will be fulfilled in the way you choose – by email, or post, or you can collect it from our offices. The documents are:

- the annual financial report for the fund most recently lodged with ASIC, and
- any half-year financial report lodged with ASIC and any continuous disclosure notice given for the fund after the lodgement of the annual financial report for the fund and before the date of this document.

Are there any other benefits to Colonial First State?

The fund receives banking and treasury-related services from the Bank in the normal course of business and pays normal commercial fees for them. We may derive monetary or administrative benefits from the Bank as a consequence of maintaining bank accounts with the Bank and through performing administration services for Bank products.

Managing conflicts of interest

CFSIL is a subsidiary of the Bank. All related party transactions are conducted on arm's length terms. Accordingly, CFSIL believes that related parties are receiving reasonable remuneration. Any conflict of interest or potential conflict of interest is managed in accordance with the Bank's Conflicts of Interest Policy.

CFSIL is the responsible entity for the fund and makes its investment decisions in accordance with its systems and processes separately from other members of the Bank Group. The available investments may include securities or other financial products issued by members of the Bank Group. As a result, the Bank Group's activities may have an effect on the investments.

CFSIL makes no representation as to the future performance of any underlying investments held in the fund, including those issued by members of the Bank Group.

CFSIL, other members of the Bank Group and their directors and employees may hold, buy or sell shares or other financial products included in the fund. Members of the Bank Group may have business relationships (including joint ventures) with related parties. In addition, members of the Bank Group may from time to time advise CFSIL in relation to activities unconnected with the fund.

Such relationships and advisory roles may include acting as general financial adviser in respect of, without limitation, corporate advice, financing, funds management, property and other services.

The directors and employees of CFSIL and other members of the Bank Group may hold directorships in the companies included in the fund. Any confidential information received by the Bank Group and its directors and employees as a result of the business relationships, advisory roles and directorships discussed above will not be made available to CFSIL.

Interests of the directors of the responsible entity

Executive directors may receive remuneration as employees of the Bank or one of its related entities. Non-executive directors are also remunerated for their services. From time to time directors may hold interests in shares or other securities issued by the Bank or hold investments in one or more of the funds offered by Colonial First State.

This PDS has been authorised under delegation by our directors.

Terms and conditions

These terms and conditions apply when you open an account with us and when you instruct us by phone, or electronically or when you access FirstNet. It is important that you read them carefully before you provide us with instructions so that you know what will apply to your transactions.

Limitation of liability

- All other representations and warranties relating to these services are excluded except for any term that is implied by law, which is taken to be included in these terms and conditions. To the extent permitted by law, our liability for breach of that term is limited to resupplying the service or paying the reasonable cost of having the service provided again. However, our liability may be greater where we are negligent or fraudulent, but this liability may be reduced to the extent that you caused or contributed to the loss.
- Subject to the paragraph above, to the extent permitted by law, we are not liable in any way for any losses that you suffer through using or supplying information electronically, by phone or FirstNet.
- You acknowledge and agree that we will not be liable to you for any loss you suffer (including consequential loss) caused by an inability to transact with you or other persons including where we comply with any law or legislation or choose to exercise a discretion available to us, including in circumstances where we reasonably believe that you are a Proscribed Person. 'Inability to transact' may include delaying, blocking, freezing or refusing to process a transaction or ceasing to provide you with a product or service. A 'Proscribed Person' means any person or entity who the Group reasonably believes to be (i) in breach of the laws of any jurisdiction prohibiting money laundering or terrorism financing, or (ii) on a list of persons with whom dealings are proscribed by Australian laws or the laws of another recognised jurisdiction. A 'Proscribed Person' includes any person or entity who the Group reasonably believes to act on behalf, or for the benefit of, a person or entity referred to in (i) and/or (ii).
- You agree to use these services only in accordance with these terms and conditions and your other legal obligations. We are not liable for, and you release and indemnify us against, any liabilities, claims, losses or costs arising from our acting in accordance with any communication that we receive by phone, or electronically about your account or investments with us or arising from the use of FirstNet by you or any person using your Online Identity Number (OIN) and password.

Use of telephone and electronic communications

Security of phone, and electronic requests

- We have procedures in place to reduce the risk of fraud, but we cannot guarantee that someone trying to impersonate you will not contact us about your account and change your details or make a withdrawal. We may dispute liability for any losses which happen because we have acted on phone instructions that you have not authorised but which appear to be authorised by you.
- All our customers are automatically given access to communicate with us by phone and electronically. You need to tell us if you do not want us to accept any future instructions over the phone or electronically by sending us an original signed request.

- We will block access to your account for phone and electronic instructions by the second business day after we receive that request. Until this happens, these terms and conditions for phone and electronic communications will still apply to your account.
- If you are a joint account holder, any of the joint account holders may give us instructions about the account.
- If the account holder is a company, any director of the company may give us instructions about the account, provided we have previously been notified in writing of the lists of directors.

Information received by phone or electronically

- If the details that we receive over the phone or electronically do not match the details that we have previously received for the account, then we will not proceed with the request.
- We also will not process a request if the instructions we receive are incomplete or illegible or appear to contain errors. This is to ensure that the transaction we perform is exactly what you were requesting.
- We can change or cancel these terms for phone and electronic communications at any time as long as we give you 14 days written notice.
- Apart from these terms and conditions, we may have other requirements for receiving instructions from time to time. You will be notified if this affects you or your request.
- If you do not accept changes to these terms, you may permanently stop instructing us by phone or electronically without fee or charge by providing us with an original signed request, as outlined under the heading 'Security of phone and electronic requests'.

Use of FirstNet

OIN and password

- You must keep your OIN and password secret. You should not disclose them to anyone or record them in a way which could affect their confidentiality.
- If you give someone else permission to use your OIN and password, you are responsible for any transactions they perform or changes they make to your account information, or anything that happens because you gave them that permission.
- Anyone can access FirstNet if they have a valid OIN and password. This means that if someone else has your OIN and password, they can access your account information and make transactions, even if you have not authorised them to use your OIN and password. We are not responsible to you and will not pay for any losses that may happen because we acted on any instructions received through FirstNet which used your OIN and password, whether or not these instructions were authorised by you.
- You must tell us immediately if you think that someone has accessed your account without your permission or if you think that someone else may know your OIN and password. We will stop access to the account and issue a new password.

Access to FirstNet

- You can tell us if you want to permanently stop using FirstNet by sending us an original signed request. We will block FirstNet access to your account on the second business day after we receive that request. Until this happens, these terms and conditions will still apply to your account.
- We will do our best to maintain the operation of this service in accordance with the information you have received about it. However, we may suspend or restrict your access to the service at any time including, but not limited to, in circumstances where we have reasonable certainty of unauthorised transactions or fraud.
- We do not guarantee or warrant that the use of FirstNet will be uninterrupted or error free. We also do not warrant that it is suitable for any particular purpose or has any performance, functionality or security features, except what we are legally obliged to provide.
- We will take all reasonable steps to make sure that the information that you access through FirstNet is up-to-date and correct.
- When you are joint account holders, and one of you registers for FirstNet transaction access, both of you are taken to have agreed to any transactions on your account through FirstNet.

Transacting on FirstNet

- 'Transaction access' means the ability to review, modify or update your contact details and accounts online; apply for, withdraw and switch units between funds or options and set up automatic facilities or features.
- You agree to use this service in accordance with these terms and conditions.
- We will only act on transaction requests that are complete and received in full, are legible and do not appear to contain any error.
- For FirstNet, a transaction reference onscreen is evidence that the communication has been completed.
- We are not liable for any losses or delays that occur because we did not receive an instruction.
- If there are any government fees and charges incurred by us in relation to your use of FirstNet, we can debit these from your account.
- You must only use FirstNet to obtain information that you are properly authorised to access and you must use this information only for lawful purposes.
- We can change these terms and conditions at any time by placing the changes on our website. When making any changes, we will act reasonably and, so far as possible, in accordance with prevailing market conditions and regulatory requirements for accounts of this type at that time. We may ask you to read and accept any amended terms and conditions so you can keep using FirstNet, but, unless otherwise required by law, once we have placed them on the website, they are binding on you, even if you have not read them. If you do not accept these changes, you may permanently stop using FirstNet without fee or charge by providing us with an original signed request, as outlined under the heading 'Access to FirstNet'.

We recommend that you check these terms and conditions on a regular basis. These terms and conditions include any instructions for using these services provided to you or placed on our website from time to time.
